

Topic: The New Immigrants		Name:
Read: pp. 254-259 in The Americans: United States History Since 1877		Date:
		Block:
Focus Question: For what reasons did immigrants come to the United States
Questions (at least 3)	Notes: Important Dates, Definitions, Events, Ideas, People, Places

Historical Thinking

Skill: Causation - When we are asked to identify the hisotrical causation of an even, we are, essentially, being asked to identify the events that led up to the hisotircal event under investigation.

Historical Thinking

Skill: Causation - When we are asked to identify the hisotrical causation of an even, we are, essentially, being asked to identify the events that led up to the hisotirical event under investigation.

The diagram consists of three rows, each containing two rectangular boxes. A thick black arrow points from the right side of the first box in each row to the left side of the second box in the same row. The boxes are empty and have black outlines. The arrows are positioned in the middle of the vertical space between the two boxes in each row.

[illegible]

